Catless World in 1920?

With the slogan "Song birds forever and a catless world in 1920," R.
Sayre, one of the largest individual farm owners in North Dakota, has arrived from Chicago to look after his interests, which surround Devil's Lake, says a Devil's Lake (N. D.) dispatch.Sayre's campaign against tabby has advanced so far that he is offering prizes to persons killing the most cats.In a leaflet issued by the enemy of the cat the household pet is pictured as the most vicious, disease-carrying, germ-ridden animal in the world.

WAR TALKS

By UNCLE DAN

Number Two

Jimmie Collins Tells What He Saw—What Military Training Does for Boys."Well, here we are!" exclaimed Billie, presenting his chum, Jimmie Collins."Very glad to see you, Mr. Collins," said Uncle Dan with a smile."Aw," said Billie, "Just call him Jimmie. That's the only name he knows. He's the pitcher of our baseball nine, and he's some pitcher, too.
Just tell of his arm.""Well," said Uncle Dan, feeling, "That's a mighty good arm!""Now, boys," said Uncle Dan, "what do you want to talk about?""Well," said Jimmie, "I was down to Galesburg a few months ago when the boys came home from the Mexican border. They looked fine. Everybody was surprised to see how straight they stood and how manly they were. The boys seemed proud to wear the uniform. I tell you their muscles were as hard as nails. I heard Banker Haskett say that the training and discipline the boys had had was exactly what every boy in the country ought to have, and that now these boys could get a better job at higher pay than they could have had before. Do you think that's so, Uncle Dan?"Uncle Dan replied: "I have a friend who employs hundreds of young men. He always gives boys having had military training the preference; he says it pays to do so. He finds they are more alert, more prompt, more courteous; they know how to carry out orders; they are quicker to think and to act than those without training. He said from his experience he believed that six or eight months of intensive military training would add at least 20 per cent to a man's

AFTER FIVE MONTHS.

The two pictures are of the same young man. The first was taken the day he enlisted and the second after he had had five months' military training. His home is in North Carolina.earning capacity, and that it was the best investment any young man could make."Billie, if you will go up to my room and bring my small handbag, I will let you see two photographs of the same young man, showing what only five months of intensive training on the Mexican border did for him."The bag was brought. Uncle Dan, showing the pictures, said: "Well, here they are. They tell their own story and it is a mighty interesting one. The young man, before training, has a discouraged look; he has seen but little of the world. There was very little in his surroundings to bring him out. When he joined the colors and Uncle Sam took him in charge, life for him took on a new meaning.
He saw a chance to do something and be something. He woke up. His captain says he is twice the man he was when he joined the army. This may be one of the extreme cases," said Uncle Dan. "I can tell you, though, that war or no war, no one thing will do the young men of this nation so much good in so short a time as a few months of intensive military training.
It fits a man to fight his own life battles in the business world as well as to defend his country and its flag."Nearly every civilized country gives its boys military training. It is compulsory. It is based upon the fact that it is the duty of everyone to help defend his country; and as war is now carried on, no one can do much unless he is trained. Also, the records show that the killed and wounded among untrained troops is nearly three times as great as it is with well-trained men who know how to fight and how to protect themselves. By this plan a nation has trained men to defend herand the individual is a stronger and better man for the training."If the Chamberlain Bill for Military Training is passed by congress, as it ought to be, the same thing would be done for millions of other young men throughout the land. Everybody ought to demand of his congressman and senators the passage of this bill.""All right, sir, exclaimed Jimmie, we will see Judge Brownell, Mr. Haskett, and Professor Slocum, and get them busy."

The Rattan Cane.

One of the most important exports of Singapore is rattan, although it does not make a large showing as to value, being a comparatively cheap article compared with its bulk. Singapore is probably the leading export market for rattans in the world, although practically none of the raw product is produced in the Straits Settlements and very little in the Federated Malay states, most of it being collected from the islands of Sumatra, Borneo, the Celebes and smaller islands. Ordinarily cut from the jungle by natives under the direction of Chinese merchants doing business in the interior, it is bought up by large dealers in the principal towns and eventually sold to Singapore buyers in bundles as it comes originally from the jungle. The buyers in Singapore take the rattan in this form and put it through a process of selection and cleaning, after which it is bundled together according to grade and shipped direct to various parts of the world.

Cod-Skin for Book Covers.

According to the Weser Zeitung (Bremen), a Berlin bookbinder has discovered a new material for book-binding—codfish skin—a doubly-welcome discovery in these days of leather shortage. In itself the use of fish skin for book-binding is no novelty; among others, shark leather had previously been used for binding de luxe for the sake of its durability and beautiful markings.Cod-skin has several advantages over shark-skin; it is more abundant, more easily procurable, and, therefore, cheaper. The appearance of the skin, unscaled and properly prepared, resembles snake's skin. Its strength and durability have been tested and found equal to parchment by the royal material-testing office in Berlin. It is easy to work and literally untearable, and should therefore prove a very valuable substitute for leather, not only for bookbinding, but for the manufacture of leather goods.

Belief in Fate Makes Failure.

There is no worse belief than that in fate and luck to make one a failure.
It puts one in a wholly wrong attitude toward life. It deadens incentive and power to employ one's wholesome aspirations. It paralyzes the energies and the resolves. It renders organized and spirited effort impossible.We may hope for no luck that we are not worthy of and are not doing our own part to earn.—The Christian Herald.

OLD ALBUM FIRST ANTHOLOGY

Present-Day Passion for Gathering Favorite Passages of Prose and Poetry More Than Fad.It is small wonder that the number of anthologies should be increased with every season, since the passion for making them, so far from being a literary fad, has its roots at the very heart of human nature. In one way or another we are all collectors, and the desire to group together in a single volume our favorite passages of poetry and prose is at least as old as the illuminated manuscripts of the monasteries.Moreover, in the generation immediately preceding our own, this taste was particularly luxuriant; and the first anthologies of the current fashion may be found in those albums of our grandmothers, of which every family preserves a few, where the melodies of Moore and the lyrical fervors of Mrs. Hemans are engrossed in the neatest and most angular of calligraphy. And nowadays, when everything that is written and collected seems to find its way into print sooner or later, nothing is more natural than that every man or woman of letters should be represented by his own particular anthology, as a sort of signimanual of taste and erudition.The custom has also conspicuous advantages, for even the most capricious collection must needs contain many indisputable jewels, and for these there can never be too many, nor too frequent readers. . . . Speaking generally, then, it may be said with justice that there can scarcely be too many of these aids to culture, and that the more deeply they penetrate into the leisure reading of the student, the more thoroughly will his appreciation for what is best in literature be fostered and developed.—Arthur Waugh.

BILLION POUNDS MEAT FOOD

What City and Country Can Produce in the Form of Poultry and EggsIf poultry production is doubled next year, as is readily possible with this city and country co-operation, we will have 6,500,000,000 pounds of meat food, in the form of poultry and eggs.
This will release almost that many pounds of other meats—pork and beef —for our armies in Europe, and for the armies and civilian populations of the Allies.If we do NOT produce this amount of poultry we may find ourselves short of meat food to just that extent.It is a patriotic duty of the utmost importance that every farmer and every person in town do his part in producing this increase of poultry which will help to win the war.It is also a profitable proposition for the average individual. Both town and farm families will produce, at its lowest cost, meat food for their own use, and, by putting up eggs for winter use will further reduce living expenses.The poultry will be handled as a by-product of the farm and backyards; each flock being large enough in numbers to utilize the scraps and waste from the kitchen and the "pick-ups" around the place, supplemented by some feed. But no flock should be out of proportion to the ground space and kitchen wastage—not so large that feed will become, relatively too costly an item. The idea is not only to increase our poultry production, but to do it economically; to do it at very little cost, by turning the waste of kitchens and backyards all over the United States into chicken and eggs.
Fowls are the only medium through which a good deal of this waste can be transformed into a valuable food product.

JERUSALEM HAS FALLEN.

Jerusalem the ancient and holy city of the Jews, was captured recently by the British forces and the Turk, who has held the sacred city for over a thousand years, was expelled, it is probable, for all time.
